Things You Need to Know This Week

June 28, 2024

Member Notice

July 2024 is upon us, and summer is kicking into full swing! Many of our members are hard at work serving visitors and locals. Our Visitor Center in West Ocean City is now open 6 days a week from 10am-3pm daily. Fear not: we are not kicking back here at the OC Chamber. This is our season to do strategic planning when we have the time and space to do so well.

The Board has a slate of officers and directors for the FY24/25 Board for you to review before they swear in this September.

Strategic Planning is an ongoing process, but we recently celebrated completion of some key milestones and are now looking towards what's next for the OC Chamber.

Value, Community, and Resources are the building blocks of what we do to give back to the business community, so we are mindful to focus by keeping what works, modifying to improve what needs tweaking, and as the world shifts, we add new to ensure we are keeping up with your needs.

If you are an idea person, a relationship-builder, or a big-picture thinker, I would LOVE to have you help us take things to the next level. Please let me know if you want to be part of creating our future!

Our Young Professionals are gearing up for Christmas on July 21st at the Residence Inn. This is part of their fundraising efforts to give back to children in need in our community during the holidays. Last year the YPs were able to impact over 180 children in need during the Christmas Spirit Campaign. Please help us to keep up that level of giving back in 2024.

And a reminder: enjoy yourself! Where you live. What you do. This is the season for FUN, so go create some for yourself!
